A Haunting Fall Adventure with Ghost Boat: Season of the Witch

WISCONSIN DELLS, Wis. (September 20, 2019) – As the season changes, crisp fall air awakens the witches on Dells Boat Tours’ after-dark adventure in Wisconsin Dells. Ghost Boat: Season of the Witch returns to Cold Water Canyon through the end of October. Excursions are offered Friday and Saturday nights, traveling upriver to the spooky canyon where the haunting begins.

“The Halloween season provides the perfect mood for a Ghost Boat journey – it’s dark, the night air is cool, and you never know what may be lurking in the shadows,” said Amanda McGowan, assistant manager of Dells Boat Tours.

The creepy Halloween season experience begins at the Dells Boat Tours’ main landing dock located at 11 Broadway in downtown Wisconsin Dells. Darkness closes in fast, setting the stage for an ominous 1½-hour excursion on the Wisconsin River at night. The Ghost Boat sets off and tales of Wisconsin Dells’ ominous past fill the air. The dark waters rush by as the boat meanders upriver and docks at the eerie Cold Water Canyon.

The anticipation builds as passengers disembark and dare to walk into the woods, into the unknown. The pathway in, is only dimly lit. The deep rocky gorge soon becomes very narrow, requiring a single-file approach in some spots along the boardwalk. The night encapsulates you. What’s that you hear? Did you see something? Who’s there?

“Nighttime in the canyon is very creepy and your imagination can get the best of you,” said McGowan. “It’s nearly pitch-black which amps up the scare factor.”
